Rosenthal Gets Scholarship

David Rosenthal won $500 for third place in the Bank of America Scholarship contest Wednesday.

David competed in the Fine Arts field which involved the knowledge of painting, music and some literature.

The judging was based 40 percent on the grade point average, 20 percent on service and 40 percent on the rating during the discussion. This was the third round of the contest which was at the city level, where David competed against eight other people. David also won the school and zone finals.

Students display prize-winning cakes at last Friday's cake bake to honor James Monroe's 21st birthday. (L-R) Sonny Markwell for second best texture, Kristine Kimball for best decorated, Don Mainwal for best 11th grade cake, and Cathy Venable honored for her third best cake throughout the 12th grade.

James Monroe's Birthday Celebrated by Cake Contest

Spirited students celebrated the birthday of James Monroe Friday with a cake baking contest that was open to the student body.

Winners were:

Girls' League, Best Decorated Club Cake; Joan Saunders, Best Texture; Kristine Kimball, Best Decorated; Sue Wallace and Kathy Christensen, Tenth grade winner; Don Mainwal, Eleventh grade; Nancy Berri, Twelfth grade; Carmela Yawaraki, Faculty; Jan Green, Best Tasting; and Jo Ellen Pulley, Most Original.

The cakes were to be homemade from a mix or from scratch. They were judged by administrators, parents, teachers and students.

Contending cakes were on display all day Friday in Odins Hall, judged during third period and distributed to students on the Senior Lawn after school.

Prizes consisted of 10 free games at the Panorama Bowl, free passes to Mac Donalds, Taco Bell and the Panorama Theatre and several "Chicago" Albums, according to Student Body President, Josh Bottfeld.

Participating students joined in singing the "Happy Birthday Song" with accompaniment by the James Monroe Pep Band after the awards were presented.

Past graduate Jady Copeland was elected student body vice-president for the 1972-73 school year at Florida College in Temple Terrace, Florida.

Jady, a past Knights President, graduated from Monroe in June 1971.

Gillinger Protests Judging

A protest has been launched by Mrs. Donna Gillinger to the Board of High School Sports concerning the judging of Girls Gymnastic events.

Complaint

Mrs. Gillinger's complaint is that judges at some high schools score lower or higher than others, thus causing the girls averages to vary not according to whether they win or lose, but the schools most of their events take place at.

Only the best five in each event go to the city competition but with the present scoring system the five going aren't necessarily the best five, Mrs. Gillinger said. For example, in vaulting, North Hollywood has three of the best, Poly one and Monroe one, but as of now only one of North Hollywood's will go and the other four are uncertain.

But Lose

A girl could win every meet but not make it to City if the judges where she competes score low (2 or 3) for a good showing instead of a (6 or 7).

Mrs. Gillinger stated that she would like to see girls all get as many points for first place and so many for second, third and fourth.

Annual AFS Carnival Hosts Many Attractions

Soul food, cakes, apple cider, gambling and bagles are just a few of the attractions that will be offered at Monroe High's annual American Field Service Carnival of Friday, May 12 in the boy's gym.

Many service clubs and student organizations have organized different booths for the purpose of raising money for sending AFS finalists Kerry Silvey and Mike Spore to a foreign country as part of their high school education. Proceeds will also go to support any foreign exchange student who might attend Monroe next year.

Each group will design and build their own booth. Prizes and a trophy will be awarded for distinctive booths.

A few of the booths will be a "soul food" booth, serving chitlins, pigs knuckles, barbecued spare ribs and southern fried chicken (Black students Union), an ice cream booth (CSF), a "write it yourself" newspaper headline booth (Doctrine Staff), an ecology booth which will carry information on ecology and the "Hike for Hunger", raffle off ecology products and sell organic food, and a "Hole in the Wall" booth featuring bagles (with cream cheese or butter) and doughnuts decorated in the eleventh grade class colors (Eleventh grade Class Council).

Also included will be authentic French, Russian, German and Spanish food also with an occasional line of can-can girls, folkdancing and folksinging (Foreign Language Department), a "Ye Olde Candy Shoppe" with peppermint and lemon drops and caramelled apples (Girls' League), a down home country store which will feature knick-knacks, macrame, candles and ponchos (GAA-Lettergirls), a "Cake Walk" booth with prizes of cakes for winning ring toss and bean bag games (Knights and Ladies), a gambling booth with a wheel of fortune dice and many (non-cash) prizes (Math Club), a Shakespeare Theatre with apple cider, folk-singing and pantomimes (Shakespeare Class), and the annual Marriage booth (Student Council).

Admission is $1.00 at the door and it includes 50¢ script. Additional tickets will be sold inside.

Cap and gown measurements along with a $6.00 rental fee are due this week in the Student Store for those seniors who plan to participate in the graduation ceremony.

Mini Classes Discuss

Pantomime Beliefs

Room E-10 Tuesdays during I-1 is the home for Mrs. Frena Rood's "pantomime class."

Anywhere from 5 to 20 students take part in activities such as physical sensitivity, emotional memory and pantomime exercises.

Mrs. Rood said enthusiastically, "Students learn to use their body to its most exciting limits."

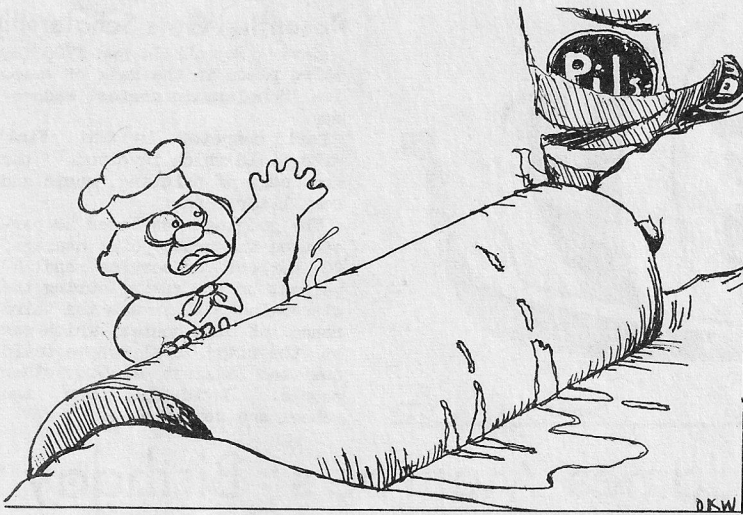

The class will progress into improvisational mime before the end of the semester.

Student Miguel Capote instructs a class "Protestant Beliefs and the Bible", Tuesday I-1 in Room 130. Mr. Melvin Smith is the sponsor.

The class discusses the doctrine of Protestant Groups, controversy that led to the division of the Catholic and Protestant churches, salvation, Heaven and Hell.

Last Tuesday, Miguel started a three week series on the rapture of the church, prophecy, and the plight of Israel. After this series, the class will begin a study of creation versus evolution.

"The purpose of the class is to give people a background in religion that regular school fails to give", said Miguel.

"A" Volleyballers Win

Monroe's "A" volleyballers overtook the Grant Lancers yesterday at Monroe, 15-5, 15-13. The "A" team holds a strong 7-0 record and has assured itself a spot in the city finals May 13.

The "B" team held a close match, going 3 games but losing, 15-7, 7-15, 5-15. The "B" team holds a 4-1 record, but is not eligible for the championship.

The final matches of the season will be May 13 at Monroe.

Dodgers Hold Nights

The Los Angeles Dodger baseball team is sponsoring "Teen Nights" at Dodger Stadium for teenagers through the age of 19, to be admitted to regular $2.95 reserved seats for $1.00. These Friday night games will be on May 19 against the Houston Astros and June 2 against the St. Louis Cardinals.

In addition to the regularly scheduled games, a variety of prizes will be awarded. Teenagers may order tickets by sending a check or money order (plus 25¢ mailing charge) to Teen Night, Los Angeles Dodgers, PO Box 100, Los Angeles, Calif. 90051. Ticket booths on the green level at Dodger Stadium will be open at 6 PM on Teen Nights.

Students Rights Issue Discussed by Bottfeld

For you that have been wondering why you haven't been hearing from Student Council, there is a somewhat simple answer.

I have found there are no important issues which Student Council can work on. After seeing many other schools, I found out Monroe students have more rights than almost any other school. As for the few other schools, we have just as many rights as them. I heard a rumor going around that Granada Hills had "open campus." I checked into it and found out they have a privilege card that lets them out at lunch. This is on a three week trial period. This privilege card is the same thing our Student Council instated over a year ago.

In the coming agenda, Student Council will be talking about setting up a Student Court in order to let students bring up their grievances to a committee not just made up of administration members. We are also working on a Student Rights committee. We are also trying to get the speakers fixed in the lunch area. Another motion will be to get a pass-fail grading system in some of the P.E. classes next semester for a ten week period.

I hope to have an open forum at lunch where I can talk to the interested students and find out what they would like Student Council to work on. This, hopefully, will be in the very near future. Speaking of open forums, I hope you do attend the other ones we will be having. Darr Conradson, Commissioner of Assemblies, has done much work to get speakers who are very relevant to what's happening today.

UCLA Holds Open House

An open house for 11th and 12th graders will be held at the UCLA Westwood campus on Sunday, May 7, for an entire day.

The experience for high school students will include tours of the campus, an outdoor band concert, film programs, rap sessions with UCLA students and faculty, lectures by faculty members, and information about admission and financial aids.

Also, the UCLA center of health and sciences will hold a special open house on the same day for students. The program and all on-campus parking are free. The most convenient lots are lot 4 (Sunset and Westwood) and lot 6 (Wilshire and Westwood) and are located in front of the Ackerman Student Union. Sack lunches are suggested and signs will be posted to direct students to the Alumni Center patio.
